ASA WPA Executive Director and Assistant Attend National Convention

(New Orleans, LA) - March 6-9, Angie Wentz, ASA of Western Pennsylvania Executive Director and Tracie LeShock Bowser, Assistant Executive Director, traveled to New Orleans, Louisiana to attend the ASA National Convention, SUBExcel. Also, representing the Chapter was Board Member, Aaron Tamasy of Arete Construction. There, all three were heavily involved in a full schedule of daily meetings, educational seminars and networking events. Informational topics ranged from Motivation, Leadership and Succession Planning to Contracts, Supply Chain Issues and Economic Updates. Expert Speakers and Industry Peers including Kelly Riggs, Chris Kuehl, Tom Woodcock, Chip Bachara and Jeff Butler were featured presenters sharing their knowledge with Executive Directors, Subcontractors,

Specialty Trade Contractors and Suppliers. Opportunities for team building were a source of fun and welcome to participants amidst the busy agenda and Angie, Tracie and Aaron all had the chance to enjoy a swamp tour and crab boil, explore the French Quarter and indulge in café au laits and beignets from Café Du Monde. Tracie said, "I found the most rewarding experience to be personally meeting and learning from other Chapter Executive Directors and National Representatives." Of all the many wonderful things that came from this invaluable opportunity, the best occurrence, by far, was the Always Something Awesome Mardi Gras Awards Gala on the last evening of the convention as ASA WPA's Executive Director, Angie Wentz, received the Outstanding Service Award by ASA National President, Brad Miller, for her 22 years of commitment and dedication to the association.
